Dr. M. J. Chatton Of County Hospital Is Kiwanis Guest

Dr. Milton J. Chatton, superintendent of Santa Clara County Hospital, guest speaker of Tuesday's Kiwanis luncheon meeting at IOOF Hall gave an enlightening talk on the operation, facilities and other information on the County Hospital.

"The hospital," Dr. Chatton said, "situated on San Jose-Los Gatos Road, near Beverly-Burbank, located on 52 acres of land is equipped with 495 beds, with the average daily occupancy during 1952 amounting to 75-83 per cent of capacity."

The doctor pointed out, however, that of that number, which he said was misleading, bassinets, in the Maternity Ward are classified as "beds," even though they are available only to infants.

Beds in the Contagious Disease Wards also, the doctor said, are available only for limited occupancy, and can not properly be classified as available for the average patient. The doctor pointed out that the County Hospital is the only hospital in the county that has facilities for treating contagious diseases.

When these factors are considered, the speaker said, bed occupancy in most cases during the past year was 100 per cent of capacity.

The superintendent went on to say in his talk to Kiwanians that the bed availability was so limited during the past year, that hospital officials were obliged to classify patients as "sick," "sicker," and "sickest."

Of these, the doctor said, many "sick" and "sicker" patients were unable to find bed space. This condition was also found at Santa Clara County Alms House during the past year, Dr. Chatton said.

Santa Clara County Hospital, according to the superintendent, is understaffed, based on national average, in that the ratio of nurses to patients is five to one, as compared to average hospital ratio of 13 to one.

Regular medical staff of County Hospital has been supplemented during the past year by volunteer service of 80 county practicing physicians who donated in excess of 6,000 hours, Dr. Chatton said.

Herbert Shadle, of Campbell Kiwanis Club, was chairman for the last meeting. It was announced that the club will present a Variety Show May 23, in the Campbell Union High School Auditorium. The 75 cent admission charge will go toward the Kiwanis-sponsored Youth program.

Quito Church Gets Own Pastor

The Calvary Baptist Chapel of Quito Park now has its own pastor, Rev. M. Ellick, Jr., who began his ministry on last Sunday with special Easter services.

The Rev. Ellick was formerly state evangelist for the Iowa State Convention, followed by six years pastoral service at the Mount Olivet Baptist Church in Denver. Before coming here, he had had a brief ministry at the Grace Baptist Church in San Leandro during which time the church membership doubled and a new building was constructed and paid for.

The new pastor plans to bring his wife and three children to this area as soon as housing can be secured.

CITY CALLS FOR SERVICE BIDS FOR VEHICLES

Local service stations who wish to service City of Campbell's motor vehicles are asked to submit bids, in writing, to City Clerk Dorothy P. Trevelyan, at city offices, 41 North Central street.

City of Campbell has two fire trucks, a police car and a motorcycle. Work would include furnishing gasoline, and maintenance of these vehicles.

City clerk requests that bids be mailed, not telephoned, to the city office at 41 North Central street in the near future.

Moreland School Fall Registration

Moreland School District will hold Kindergarten Registration for a two week period beginning April 6th and closing April 17th. Children who will be 4 years 9 months old by Sept. 1st may attend Kindergarten next fall. Parents may enroll them at either El Quito Park School, Bucknall Road and Paseo Presada, or at Moreland School, Payne Ave. and Saratoga Road.

Children who will be 5 years 9 months old by Sept. 1st and are not attending Kindergarten should be enrolled for first grade.

Early registration is important in order that plans may be made for next fall. The Board of Trustees is planning construction of six more classrooms and an administration unit at El Quito Park School. Bids will be opened and work begun on this project before the close of this school term.

Lowell Bensen, of Bensens Cleaners, was elected vice president. George Jeffers of Jeffers Men and Boys Wear, remained as secretary of the organization.

LOCAL GRAMMAR SCHOOL DEDICATES NEW MUSIC WING, SHOPS, LIBRARY; TO COMPLETE SCHOOL FACILITIES

Dedication ceremonies were held Tuesday night for Campbell Grammar School's new music wing, shops, library and cafeteria, additions which mark the completion of facilities at this school, the oldest and largest in the Campbell Union School district.

Held in conjunction with the regular PTA meeting the ceremonies included a panel on "Family Fun" with Mrs. Eugen Andres as moderator; award of athletic awards by L. E. (Bill) Means of the board of trustees, and dedicatory remarks by Edwin C. Van De Mark, president of the board.

The music building, with its acoustically designed band and orchestra room and individual practice rooms, is a far cry from the old wooden structure which for years housed vocal and instrumental classes.

Parents and friends who toured the school after the meeting also saw the cafeteria, which, though it was built in 1949, had to be used for classroom space until last fall, and also the new shops, in which wood and metal are taught.

The new library, converted from space in the old cafeteria, will be stocked with the aid of a $600 donation for books made by the PTA. Principal Dorothy Royce announced that reference books and story books supplementing study material will be purchased.

Campbell Grammar School is planned to serve the seventh and eighth grades in the district. Under this arrangement, it will have an enrollment of approximately 1000. Present enrollment is about 1250 since it is handling the overflow from other schools.

This overflow will be taken care of in new schools under construction and in the planning stage. Beginning next fall, the school will have only a few fifth and sixth graders, representing additional enrollment from Hamilton school.

Most of the pupils of sixth grade and below will be accommodated in the projected Cherry Lane School at the end of Giles Way. Beginning this Spring, pupils in this bracket who live south of Campbell Ave. west of the railroad tracks, north of Sunny Oaks Ave. and east of Virginia Ave. will be identified as Cherry Lane School pupils.

Campbell Grammar School already offers a partially departmentalized system for the seventh and eighth grades, in which some teachers teach particular courses. Pupils get some experience in student government.

They also may take advanced courses such as wood and metal shop for boys, foods and clothing for girls, and vocal and instrumental music at a higher level than that taught in the other schools.

Campbell Grammar School was completed in 1922. Trustees were S. N. Hedegard, Joe Conner, Charles DeSelle, E. J. Cuthbertson, George Husted and D. N. Blood. E. J. Cuthbertson was first principal. Since then there have been three other principals, Ira R. Abbott, District Superintendent William C. Henley, and Mrs. Dorothy Royce.

HISTORY RECORDS KEY EVENTS FOR MONTH OF APRIL

When history picked its dates for important events the month of April came in for more than its share. World War I started on April 6, 1917 and the Revolutionary War, the Civil War and the Spanish-American War also began during April.

In April 1945, three of the top leaders in World War II died within a few days of each other—Franklin Roosevelt on April 12; Benito Mussolini was shot to death and hanged by an angry mob on April 28; and Adolf Hitler took his own life in Berlin on April 30.

In the Civil War, Lee surrendered on April 9, 1865 and Lincoln died just one week later on the 16th after being shot the previous night. The great San Francisco earthquake occurred on April 18, 1906, and an earth-shaking event of another kind also took place in San Francisco April 25, 1945, when the United Nations met for its formal organization. Never a dull moment—that's April!

Following is a tentative program at the Campbell Grammar School by the Cabin Boys. Doors open at 7:30 and concert starts at 8:15. A great number of requests will be sung, thus altering this tentative program somewhat.

Orchard Grange 50th Anniversary Reported Success

Campbell Grammar School auditorium was filled to capacity last Monday night as friends and guests of Orchard City Grange met to celebrate 50 years of agricultural and cultural service to Campbell and vicinity.

Orchard Grange master A. J. Emery, said that ice cream ordered for 300 persons shortly after the start of the evening's festivities ran out but that serving continued for more than an hour after that.

Present as principal speaker of the evening was State Grange Master George Sehlmeier, who spoke of pending legislation in Sacramento and in Washington having to do with ways and means of getting more water into the Santa Clara Valley.

Other guests who gave short talks were Campbell City councilman and orchardist Joseph V. Gomes, Campbell Chamber of Commerce president Harold Estensen, and Sam Della Maggioli, member of Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors.

Especially honored were charter members, Mrs. Jessie Campbell, and Mrs. Charlotte Sutter, oldest living descendants of Campbell pioneer families. Mrs. Campbell is the wife of Henry, son of Benjamin Campbell who founded the town of Campbell in 1800. Mrs. Sutton is the daughter of Larry Willets, one of the early settlers in the valley who owned a ranch adjacent to Benjamin Campbell.

Also honored were Mrs. Meredith Husted and William Finmore, who were also celebrating their 50th year as members of the Orchard City Grange.

Only change in the entertainment portion of the evening's program according to Mrs. Lucille Hoerler, Orchard Grange lecturer, was the absence of Mrs. Walter Hammond from Los Altos, pianist and entertainer who was unable to be present due to illness in the family.

Mrs. Hammond was replaced by a San Jose State drama student, Mrs. Betty Moore, who gave a reading entitled "Two Little Black Boys."

Otherwise the program went off as scheduled with 10-year-old Judy Good, baton twirler, and Sherry Martin, Hawaiian dancer and the Almaden quartet performing as scheduled.

Richard Morill, Jr., was chairman of the dinner arrangements assisted by Mrs. Josephine Biller, Mrs. Sarah Blue, and Mrs. Janette Petersen.

APPLIANCE STORE LEASE EXPIRES; BIG SALE ON

Pending acquisition of a new lease, or other business adjustment due to expiration of old lease, Campbell Furniture Appliance store on Campbell Ave., operated by brothers, Harold and Leonard Estensen will conduct a gigantic sale starting today and will continue for the next several weeks until the firm moves to a new location.

Rather than bear the cost and inconvenience of moving a large stock of home appliances which include gas ranges, stoves, and other electrical and gas appliances for the home, and furniture, the brothers said they would accept any reasonable offer of a customer on any of their fine products.

The brothers were quick to point out that the firm is not going out of business. They have been operating for 10 years in San Jose and for several years in Campbell and hope to continue for many more to come. But they were anxious to pass the word to their friends in the Campbell area to take advantage of a temporary business adjustment at a substantial saving to the thrifty buyer. "Any reasonable offer, from any customer during this sale period," the brothers repeated "if anywhere near cost will be accepted." The Estensen's said business arrangements for renewing the old lease, leasing a new location, constructing a new building in the Campbell area, or buying land on which to construct a new building have not yet been worked out.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser
REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

This is my first attempt at being a columnist. I've thought about the styles of Winchell, Pearson, Othmann, and Lippman and have discarded them all in favor of just being Charlie Gubser. This will not be the type of column that will ever be in the running for a Pulitzer prize. Instead it will merely be an amateur's attempt at telling his readers a little bit about the human side of their nation's Capitol and about the things which the syndicated columnists are too busy to notice. Some day in this column you might even find the recipe for the famous navy bean soup served in the House Restaurant.

The outstanding event of last week in so far as I was concerned was my breakfast at the White House as a guest of President Eisenhower. With twenty-two other first year Republican Congressmen we gathered in the Blue Room where we chatted informally with the President for a few moments before going to breakfast in the State Dining Room. I was lucky enough to be seated directly across the table from the President and was able to talk with him a great deal. Of course the meal of grapefruit, oatmeal, little pig sausages with scrambled eggs, and coffee was delicious and it was beautifully served but the thing I will remember longest is the pleasant company. Naturally I was ill at ease at the start of my first real conversation with the President of the United States but that feeling didn't last for more than a minute or two. Mrs. Eisenhower has that rare ability to make you feel completely at home as soon as she shakes your hand. We didn't discuss politics but touched on most everything else including golf and fishing. Most interesting to me was a discussion of vegetable growing at which the President is obviously an expert. Other 'farm talk' proved to me that the President spoke from firsthand knowledge when he was discussing methods of harnessing up a team of work horses.

I wish it were possible for all of you to have breakfast with the President. You would be impressed with his complete unassuming friendliness. You would like the way he talked about "Mrs. Ike" and bragged about his grandchildren. You would think of him as a friend and neighbor. "This man," you would think, "is not just a great general, not just a President of the United States. He is my own personal president and understands my little everyday problems as well as the big ones." As you left you would feel closer to your government and your faith in it, great as it may have been, would be even greater.

Yes, meeting my President was a big event. I had met a great administrator, an honest and sincere leader, but what was more important, I felt that I had made a new friend.

The cherry blossoms and Tideland Oil legislation were big events of the week in Washington. Thousands of visitors from all over the United States flocked to the Tidal Basin surrounding Jefferson Memorial to see the famous blossoms. Though it is by no means as spectacular as the Santa Clara Valley in bloom, the setting and the delicacy of the coloring make the Washington cherry blossoms a sight one doesn't easily forget. The biggest surprise to me was the fact that the cherry blossom display is in such a limited area of the city. I had always been led to believe that cherry trees lined practically all the streets of Washington.

TIDELANDS... The House of Representatives has voted ownership of the offshore oil in the states — up to 3 miles from shore in the case of California and 10 1/2 miles in the case of Texas and Florida. As you know, the Supreme Court had declared that California but at the same time it did not say that the Federal Government owned them. This made it necessary, therefore, for the ownership to be determined by an act of the sovereign. This act came last week when the House voted 285 to 108 to vest ownership in the states. I voted for state ownership because the state of Cali-

News Notes For Girl Scouts Of S. C. Valley

Mrs. Walter Borchers, training committee chairman for Santa Clara Valley Girl Scouts is announcing several training courses designed for Brownie Scout, and Girl Scout leaders to be held during the next two weeks. Wednesday, April 8, a Nature Workshop will be held from 9:30-11:30 at the Bethany Lutheran Church. All Girl Scout adults and friends are invited to attend this workshop. Others will be planned if the group desires further workshops. Mr. James Peterson, who is associated with the Junior Museum, and who is an authority on the local nature scene, particularly the Alum Rock area, will be the group instructor. Two courses for beginning Brownie leaders are being offered for new leaders in the Crescent District, the Alum Rock Methodist Church will be the setting for a Brownie Scout training course. First session, acting in good faith, has made commitments to its people which were conditioned upon the revenue from offshore oil leases. These revenues provide our State beaches and parks.

MORE ABOUT WHITE HOUSE VISIT... An interesting sidelight of my visit to the white House was Mr. Eisenhower's statement that the moment he receives a gift he must bequeath it to a non-profit museum or institution. It seems any gift received by the President immediately assumes a tremendous historic value far in excess of its intrinsic value. If Mr. Eisenhower were to pass away his heirs would then be forced to pay tremendous inheritance taxes on the historic value of hundreds of swords, ribbons, guns, teaspoons and the like which have little or no practical value. This practice of immediately bequeathing gifts received has long been followed by Presidents of the United States.

Home Extension Learns Easy Way

"Every man should expect to come home to a clean and cheery house and a clean and cheery spouse," according to the experts at the March 25th meeting of Cambrian Home Extension. Theme of the meeting was "Efficiency in the Home," and project leaders were Mrs. L. M. Raphael and Mrs. Rene Montrezza, who highlighted their lesson with pointers on household management.

"Take 10!" is worth remembering, according to the leaders, as ten minutes of rest taken now and then make for efficiency. Good posture and suitable clothing for household tasks also help, they added. They stressed the value of making full use of vacuum cleaners and all their attachments for many jobs about the house. Reading labels on products carefully saves time and waste of materials. Silverware can be cleaned quickly in an aluminum pan containing a teaspoon of salt, a cup of vinegar and water to cover the flatware.

Mrs. James Goble read a letter from Mrs. Winifred Jecker, who is studying at Columbia University.

Approximately forty ladies attended the meeting. Coffee cake and coffee were served by Mesdames Don Hancock, C. T. Mitchell, Max Nigl and Fred Starbuck.

Local Camp Fires To Be Hostesses To 13 Councils

"Ring On Your Finger" will be the theme of this year's conference of Camp Fire Councils to be held Saturday, April 11th, at Rickety's Studio Club, when Horizon Club members of the Santa Clara County Council of Camp Fire Inc., will be hostesses to thirteen councils of the Southern Division of Region 10. Two of the three Horizon Clubs of the county are located in Campbell; the third is in Los Gatos.

Vivi Andres, of the Campbell Horizon Club led by Mrs. David Ribble, will give the welcoming address at the conference. Guest speaker of the day will be Ruth Morgan, teen-age expert of the University of California. Wilma Wright of Contra Costa Junior College, will speak at Saturday's luncheon on "Charm and Personality."

During the afternoon workshops will be held on Teen Age Dating, Marriage Horizons, Community Responsibility and Social Adjustment.

Christine Heck, field director for the Santa Clara County Council, and a member of the Steering Committee, will be present with the girls hosting the event.

Campbell leaders pioneered in Santa Clara County in the Camp Fire movement and maintain first place on the Horizon Club level, which is that of high school girls. Mrs. David Ribble, leader of one of the Campbell clubs, was one of the founders twenty five years ago, and helped to start Camp Wastahi, famous summer camp at Big Basin. The members of her Horizon Club became Blue Birds in the third grade and are still together in their junior year at high school. Twelve of the original group, comprising the whole club at the eighth grade level, became Torchbearers, setting a unique record, as the rank of Torchbearers, comparable to that of the Eagle Scout, is rarely attained.

The honor is gained only through a difficult process, in which the Camp Fire Girl must make elaborate notebooks and show herself proficient in eight crafts.

This notable group has spent nine busy and happy years in carrying out projects both original and of service to the community.

As eighth graders they held a "charm school," with speakers expert in the fields of good grooming, cosmetology, voice and style. As high school students they have been advised in selecting their careers by nurses, teachers, secretaries and others, who spoke to the group on their professions.

The girls as they grew older became assistant guardians to younger children. One year they made eighteen beautiful rag dolls for hospitalized children. They have helped visiting nurses and the Red Cross and other service organizations. Some of the girls are now junior counselors at camps in the summer.

The club's activities have not been confined to work, however. Skating parties, beach parties, excursions to San Francisco (to I. Magnin's, to Gump's and to Fisherman's Wharf) have provided many happy memories. Dad and Daughter dinners and Mothers' teas were also important activities. Mrs. Ribble states that the key to satisfying Camp Fire work is parent participation, and the success of this Horizon Club is in large part due to the interest and activity of the girls' parents. One member of the club sums up the feeling of the group, saying, "We're just like sisters. We may get mad at one another some times, but afterward we just like one another more than ever."

Members of the club under Mrs. Ribble's leadership are Marilyn Hereford, Nadine Babb, Ann Chambers, Virginia Kinsella, Nancy Titus, Sandi Howard, Joan Oeser, Delores Solari, Vivi Andres, Pat Means, Liz Ribble, Judy Zimmerman and Mary Ann Horne.

STATE TAXES DUE APRIL 15

You have another date with the tax collector on April 15. This chap keeps the money nearer home and doesn't dig so deep into your pocket, but he wants his and he'll get it, or else. Hence, we wish to advise that you had better see to it that he gets it on or before the 15th of April. His name is the Franchise Tax Board and his address is Sacramento, 14, California. All he wants is about 1 per cent of your net earnings after exemptions of $2,000 if you're single and $3,500 if you're the head of a family, plus $400 for each additional dependent. If you're a newcomer to California, don't assume that you won't have to pay a tax. The best thing to do is to inquire. It's safer.

Hittin' the HI-SPOTS

with Wayne Sturtevant

Well, it's finally happened. We work for years and years and then one day the perfect scheme falls into our laps. I am referring, of course, to the big thing that took place down in Fair Hollywood last week . . .

Seems some enterprising Television Producer down South signed a real live talkin' dog to a year's contract for the, shall we say "worthwhile," salary of $25,000. That's Twenty-Five-Thousand dollars friend, and that's loads of loot even for a canine George Bernard Shaw. Mind you now, this is just a plain little old Boston Terrier that some bird down in Utah has taught to speak a few simple words that any six year old child could learn in a year of school . . .

Now this is the sort of opportunity that every teen-age youngster worth his salt stays awake nights dreaming about. Do you realize that there are pooches all over this town just sitting there drooling, waiting for some imaginative fella to teach them to speak a few lines for the eager public? Why there may even come a day when every dog in the country can carry on an intelligent conversation with his master. Mothers will be dragging Junior out of the class rooms and locking him in the garage with little Fala, preparing for a really lucrative career.

This thing has opened up great new horizons of Career possibilities . . . And, by golly, you future dog-trainers, we who are about to try, salute you.

CAMPBELLIAN: One of this town's more clever fellas, Paul Grannis the furniture man, had by-passers guessin' about a sign in his store window last week . . . It read simply, "Black Magic?" in big black letters . . . I found out what it meant but I'm not tellin'. Ask Paul, I think he knows too . . .

The smilin' sisters from Winchester Road, Nadine & Angie, broke every record in the book at their big Delicatessen opening last week-end . . . They gave away, not one, not two, but SIX thousand raviolis . . . That, friends, is a mighty big stack of raviolis and I guess you know who was down there gettin' his share . . .

The weather today (Tuesday) reminds me of that old saying "The only difference between April and March is that you expect it in March." How true, how true . . . Feels like the season when gentlemen be fur blondes . . .

Lowell Benson is one of the happiest little Cleaners I've seen in quite some time . . . Seems there's been (in the last few months) a new process of cleaning clothes that has swept through the Cleaning Industry like a dirty shirt . . . It's a thing that enables them to get your clothes cleaner with less wear and tear . . . Well Lowell luckily, had just the right type of equipment for the new process to be adapted to and saved up ten monies by not having to buy a lot of new equipment.

Remember boys, John Barrymore said it: "The way to fight a woman is with your hat . . . Grab it and run." P.S. Don't miss the Cabin Boys Quartette tonite . . . Everyone who's heard them says they're really tops . . . And it's for a very good cause to boot . . . Should be an evening you'll long remember.

CORINNE CALVET, Hollywood film star—Flirting a little is permissible for married women, but is like herbs in cooking—never too much, just a suspicion.

CAMPBELL HI-LITES

By Bob Olson

After Easter vacation come back to the books. The teacher, the student, the clerk; From Santa Cruz, Long Beach, and hospital too.

For nine more weeks of the school year's work. The poem is poor but the facts are correct. Who has their nose back on the old grindstone? We do. Who enjoyed a whole wonderful Spring week of sunning, sight-seeing, and straight housework? We did.

Everyone at Campbell High (well almost everyone) had a week off. But one faculty member had himself a new baby girl; that makes two family members of the fair sex for wrestling and baseball coach, George Miskulin. Two administrators escorted an enthusiastic group of scouts to the Pinnacles (Superintendent Hill and adult education director, Mr. Robinson). The inimitable Spanish teacher, Eugenio V. Gomez, like George Miskulin, also spent much of the week in the hospital but has only a stylish eye to show for his retreat.

Administrative Counsellor George Kemp returned more enthusiastically than anyone. Since he is also Bay Area Section president of the California Business Educators' Association, he spent the week enjoying an expense paid vacation at Long Beach and Palm Springs while also attending the association's stimulating convention in the Long Beach auditorium. He not only soaked up a lot of wonderful southern sunshine but returned with a lot of new ideas for business teachers.

The two most tired returnees were Psychology teacher, Mrs. Dadmun, and Administrative Counsellor, Jules Langlo. Both used many formally unused muscles redoing their whole front and back yards.

The big point is that we all returned better for a week of rest and escapism, better equipped to give our all to the big nine remaining weeks of this fast-fleeting school year. As one student said, "Even Santa Cruz beach palls after a week of nothing to do." Though it didn't seem like it at 8 o'clock Monday morning, we're all happiest back in harness. All work and no play would make teachers and students dull too.

The date for this year's Junior Prom has just been announced as Friday night, May 12th, from 9-12 p.m. Place: Girls Gym, right here on campus. There's "Stairway To The Stars."

They'll have to "go some" (as one of them put it today) to better the Senior's who on March 27th had a beautiful Ball at Saratoga's fashionable Foothill Club. Their theme: "Remember." was well chosen; none of the 100 couples in attendance will ever forget it. Both the decorating (reminiscent of past activities of this class of '53) and music were professional. Some visiting adults couldn't believe that these well-mannered, well-dressed young folks weren't older than high schoolers. Both these conscientious seniors and their hard-working advisors, Miss Hanck, and Messrs. Chamberlain and Langelo deserve an accolade for their success in this venture—making more such unforgettable evenings possible for future Campbell High Seniors.

Tomorrow is "Music Day of the Year" for Campbell High School Orchestra members. They'll hear Bruno Walter conduct the San Francisco Symphony in the lush Memorial Opera House. Leaving school at 11:30, the group will be in the city in plenty of time for the 2:15 p.m. concert. They'll return to Campbell at 6 p.m. with songs in their hearts and renewed determination to "go places" musically.

Only one more week and a day until the big Spring Concert in Campbell High School Auditorium. Tickets are only 50 cents and may be purchased from any music student. You'll get ten times your money's worth hearing our great A Capella Choir, orchestra and chorus under the direction of Mr. Frank Triena and the school band under the baton of Mr. Willard LeCroy.

Both Mr. LeCroy and Mr. Pope today announced a new ping-pong tournament to be held both lunch hours in the Boys' Gym. All will keep playing until one overall winner is determined. Anyone for table tennis?

After having lost a rather one-sided contest to Los Gatos, our baseballers traveled to Live Oaks Union High this afternoon to tackle the hapless Acorns. Coach Morgan's tracksters, meanwhile, are running against Los Gatos there tomorrow, and also hope of returning to victory's path.

Our swim team so far has been slightly terrific and the best is yet to come. They're diving against Willow Glen here this afternoon after trouncing Fremont 47-23. Come out and cheer Bob Nichols, Bill Kaufman, Jim Merritt, Don Greening, Gary Lenz, and all our other mermen. Special spectator seats have been set up for you.

Mr. RUDY GOLDEN of Maple Avenue left Thursday on the streamliner to visit his parents in Mammoth Spring, Arkansas. He plans to return home about April 20th.

UNESCO Analyzed By AAUW Panel

UNESCO, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, was the subject of panel discussion by members of the American Association of University Women at three meetings in San Jose during March. A timely analysis of the important international organization was made by five women of this area, three of whom are Campbell residents.

Moderator for the panel was Mrs. Walter Kerl of Campbell, chairman of the International Relations Section of the A.A.U.W.

Introductory talks were given by Mrs. Edward F. Tablak of Campbell and Mrs. Arthur B. Peneman of Willow Glen, who presented an outline of the officers of UNESCO, described the organization's legal procedure and clarified its relationship to the United Nations. A little known fact brought out in the discussion is that Russia, while a member of the United Nations, is not a member of UNESCO and displays no interest in this progressive institution. Knowledge of this fact, it was pointed out, should dispel the belief held by some critics of UNESCO that the organization has a leftist tendency. Several nations which are members of the U.N. are not members of UNESCO, and conversely, certain members of UNESCO are not members of the U.N.

The educational aspect of UNESCO was treated by Mrs. Alvin Hightower of Los Gatos, who illustrated her talk with a description of the pilot project in Fundamental Education carried out in Patzcuaro, Mexico, where Tarascan Indians are being taught to improve their own conditions. Experts are trained in UNESCO headquarters to train teachers in backward countries, who in turn instruct their own people in agricultural, economic and domestic matters. A project similar to that in Patzcuaro is being carried out in Egypt.

Mrs. J. E. De Friest of Campbell spoke on the Technical Assistance program of UNESCO, by means of which an underdeveloped country may appeal to a UNESCO board for assistance in the more technical or scientific aspects of improving its culture. Wherever feasible, teams are sent out to advise governments requesting this assistance.

UNESCO, Mrs. De Friest stated, is one of the U.N.'s special agencies, such as World Health and the Farm Aid Organization.

The budget for UNESCO was discussed by Mrs. Penneman, who explained that 14 per cent of the U. N. technical assistance budget is used by UNESCO, to which is added contributions by member states.

Mrs. Frederick Le Rocker and Mrs. Erman Stadler, both of San Jose, led the discussion of the attacks which have been made on UNESCO in California by various factions. The panel concurred in the opinion that a public adequately informed of the true nature of UNESCO will not be misled by propaganda dispensed by its opponents.

Questions from the audience were answered by panel members after their summing up of the discussion.

Sections of the A.A.U.W. participating in the series of meetings were the Community Interest Section, the Social Arts Section and the Symposia Section.
